

DESCRIPTION

Grab your markers and sketch pad because today Bruce Blitz is going to show you how to draw a real life action hero!

MATERIALS

- pad of paper
- pencil
- marker
- colored chalks or colored pencils
- eraser

DIRECTIONS

1. Using a pencil, make a rectangle shape and divide it in half by drawing a horizontal line. Draw his long nose right underneath that. Draw a squarish smiling mouth, and draw in his lower lip. Draw a long, thick nose, and lightly add two small nostrils. Make the main line of the nose extra thick.
2. On the horizontal guideline draw 2 curved lines for his eyes and draw pupils underneath. Put a lighter line underneath.
3. Draw in bushy eyebrows, making him look determined. Give him strong cheekbones.
4. At his cheekbones, going around his face, draw his curly beard.
5. In the middle of his forehead, draw in his headdress, starting with a headband and then adding the curved shape at the top. Make the lines outside the guidelines. Complete his headdress by drawing the folded garment on the sides of his face.
6. Draw in his neck, and broad shoulders. Draw crosshatched lines for his armor.
7. Erase all pencil lines. Color his face and neck in peach. Use some dark orange for shading. Use brown for his beard, and a little bit of grey for his headdress. Use orange for his armor.
8. Add some light blue around his head to make him stand out. Add some red lines around the top of his head to show he's glowing.
