

DESCRIPTION

If you want to see a letter magically transform into a cartoon, then you've come to the right place! Get ready to learn a cool doodle trick where the letter B turns into a Bunny!

MATERIALS

- pad of paper
- pencil
- marker
- colored chalks or colored pencils
- eraser

DIRECTIONS

1. Write the letter "B."
2. Inside the top part of the "B," draw a small triangle for a nose and a "U" shape coming out of the bottom of it for a mouth. Close out the cheek with a line. Make a smaller "U" shape coming out the other side of the nose, but you shouldn't see too much of it.
3. Draw in some bunny teeth. Put in 2 eyes and eyebrows up, with one going off the shape completely.
4. Add a few dots with light lines coming out for whiskers. Make a big arc inside the bottom part of the B for his feet and a smaller one peeking out the other side. Draw in his arms with one peeking out the other side.
5. Add a fluffy cotton tail. At the top left corner of the B Draw an elongated tear drop shape for an ear. Add a second one next to it and put lines in each for detail.
6. To make him look like he's hopping, put a squiggly black line underneath him, towards the left. This is where he left from. Draw a splashy effect around the squiggly line. Add light lines going towards him and jagged lines outlining the grass. Add the words "HOP" and "SPROING." Use pink to color in his nose and inside his ears.
7. Get out a fresh sheet of a paper and write the letter "B" again.
8. In the bottom part of the "B," draw a tilted upside down "U" shape for a nose. Draw a big smile underneath and round out his cheeks.
9. Just above the nose, use a "C" shape and a backwards "C" shape for eyes with 2 dots inside. Draw thick black eyebrows going up. Draw a piece of hay coming out of his mouth.
10. Draw a large ear on the side, with detail inside. Draw some hair. Incorporate the top of the "B" into his straw hat by drawing a long line arcing underneath it.
11. Add some crisscross lines inside the arcs and inside the "B." Color in his face peach, the hat orange. You've just drawn Bob the Farmer!
