DIRECTIONS

1. Draw and cut the shape of a guitar (or a fat figure 8) out of red felt.
2. Cut out a black felt circle and glue to the top of the red felt.
3. Cut a strip of black felt (2"x 12") and glue it to the top of the guitar as the neck. Cut out a small and skinny black rectangle and glue it underneath the circle for the bridge of the guitar.
4. Divide pipe cleaners into pairs and twist the ends of each pair together to form 3 long strings for your guitar.
5. Glue down all the black pieces and set aside to dry for about an hour.
6. Cut 3 small holes through the black bar and insert a string into each hole. Guide the strings up the neck of the guitar and bend over the back of the guitar and at the end of the neck. Secure with a safety pin.
7. Cut seven small flames from yellow felt and glue onto the orange felt. Leave room to cut around yellow pieces to create two-toned flames.
8. Glue guitar and flames onto your black sweatshirt. Set aside to dry for about an hour.
