DESCRIPTION

This homemade wind chime is a breeze to make...and makes a fabulous holiday present! All you need are some glitter, scissors, and string to get started!

MATERIALS

- ruler
- scissors
- glitter glue
- hole punch
- clear plastic lids
- fishing line or string
- wooden stick
- bells, shells, or anything else that will make your wind chime jingle

DIRECTIONS

1. Cut the rims off the plastic lids, then cut out seven fun shapes from the clear plastic. Stars are good shapes to use.
2. Punch a hole in the top and bottom of each star. Then tie 10-inch long pieces of fishing line to the top of each star (you can also use string if you don't have any fishing line at home). Make sure the stars are evenly spaced on the stick.
3. Attach the jingle bells by using short pieces of fishing line (about 4 inches long) to tie each one to the bottom of a star.
4. Make a "hanger" for your wind chime: tie the ends of a 6 to 8 inch piece of fishing line to each end of the stick, and tie the two pieces together.
