

DESCRIPTION

Charm bracelets are unique and really fun to make! So join Lisa B. as she shows you how to create...The Music to My Ears Charm Bracelet! Make sure you have glue, scissors, and a marker!

MATERIALS

- 8 inch gold colored bracelet (available at your local craft store)
- 10 mm jump rings
- 1 blue, 1 yellow, and 1 red sheet of foam
- glitter glue
- scissors
- 1 marker

DIRECTIONS

1. Musical notes are really just the letter "b" backwards. Draw out a bunch of lower case letter b's. A regular b is a quarter note. Draw a tale on one of your b's to make it an eighth note or connect 2 b's at the top for a double eighth note!
2. Draw 6 different types of notes on yellow and red sheets of foam, cut them out, then cover them with glitter glue.
3. Draw 6 different types of notes on yellow and red sheets of foam, cut them out, then cover them with glitter glue.
4. Push the ends through the top of each note.
5. Attach each note to your bracelet, by threading the jump ring through a loop on the bracelet and then closing the loop.
6. Make sure your notes are spread out evenly!
