

DESCRIPTION

MATERIALS

- square piece of paper, color side up

DIRECTIONS

1. Get a square piece of paper color side up in a square shape.
2. Roll bottom edge to top and fold.
3. Fold right side to left crease and reopen.
4. Fold bottom corner up to center.
5. Fold next corner into center and repeat until all corners meet in the center.
6. Unfold bottom two corners so it looks like a house.
7. Fold the right corner in to diagonal crease. Do the same on the left.
8. Fold each side over again so that the "v" is apparent.
9. Turn paper around.
10. Fold bottom corner up to center.
11. Flip paper over.
12. Fold the right and left corners into the center.
13. Fold bottom corner in.
14. Flip paper over.
15. Find the two flaps and make a small fold back with each.
16. Fold the top triangle down and make a beak.
